Since 1957 private British airlines have had 22 fatal crashes with a total of 730 deaths. In the same period BOAC and BEA have had nine fatal accidents with 270 dead.

One Labor member of the House of Commons, Maurice Orbach, said he and others will demand an immediate safety check and review of the age of all planes brought out for the summer holiday trade.

Robert Carr, leader of the Conservative aviation group in Commons, said he would urge a drive for worldwide safety.

Newspapers called for action. "With the grief there must be determination to establish the full facts of these appalling crashes," said the Daily Express.

Rotarian Bob Willhite gave an interesting account of his recent trip to the Middle East, when the Hope Rotary Club met for its weekly luncheon at the Town and Country last Friday. In a program arranged by Guy Basye, the speaker told, briefly, about stops in Beirut, Lebanon; Cairo, Egypt; and Amman, Jordan, before arriving in Jerusalem.

In the city revered by several faiths, most eating establishments still serve food in an "upper room," as has been traditional for centuries, the speaker said. He told about a visit to a bakery and the unusual process of baking bread there.

As for the political situation, Rotarian Willhite said all countries in the area are in agreement about one thing, at least. They all hate Israel, and the name, Israel, isn't even spoken aloud. The Israeli people have

Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp told the House of Commons Thursday night the deficit is needed as a moderate sustaining force while the economy levels off to a steady rate of growth after a rapid expansion

BOMBINGS (From Page One)

Both sides claimed sweeping victories in the air battles, the biggest of which broke out over the Sinai Desert.

Cairo radio claimed 70 Israeli planes had been shot down.

An Israeli Arab-language broadcast claimed Israel had destroyed 150 Egyptian planes.

Damascus radio was even more sweeping claiming all Israeli planes "vanished from the skies of the battle." The broadcast said three Israeli planes attempting to raid Syria were shot down. Amman radio said Jordanian planes also shot down three Israeli planes in an air battle.

All Arab broadcasts called on the armies to drive the Israelis out.

"Attack, destroy and liberate Palestine," cried Cairo radio.

"The forces of the Arab revolution will not pull back until the Zionists are completely obliterated from our Arab land," said Damascus radio.

"We are on the threshold of the final battle and we hope that God will grant us victory," King Hussein of Jordan said in a broadcast.

Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israel's victorious commander in the Sinai war with Egypt in 1956, declared to his army:

"Soldiers of Israel, we are not setting out for conquest. Our only aim is to frustrate the attempt of the Arab armies to conquer our country."

Dayan said the main task is "to sever and crush the right of blockades and aggression which have been created around us."

The first Israeli-Arab war came as the new state was proclaimed May 15, 1948. Israel was formed out of Palestine, long under British mandate rule. This war was ended in an armistice in 1949, broken in 1956 when Israel, backed by France and Britain, attacked Egypt. That fighting ceased under pressure from the United States and the Soviet Union.

evaluation of a potential inductee is based on tests designed to measure his general mental ability to absorb military training within reasonable time and his potential general usefulness to the service.

The 176,027 who failed to meet mental requirements last year represented a drop of 51,782 from 1965, a year of tougher standards.

The 23,555 who were both mentally and physically disqualified were some 5,000 below the previous year.

The report showed 108,259 white youths flunked mental qualification in 1966 compared with 137,225 in 1965—a drop of about 21 per cent.

Among Negro youths, 67,774 failed to meet mental standards compared with 90,584 in 1965—a decline of about 25 per cent.

The number of youths examined for the draft vaulted sharply in 1966, under the impetus of the Vietnam buildup. The 1966 total of those examined came to 1.61 million compared with 1.23 million in 1965.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

KEEP RINGING, SHE SAYS

Dear Helen: It just happened again. So I'm writing to you. We have a large house on nearly an acre of ground, a small daughter and only one phone. At least once a day while I'm diapering the baby, hanging the wash, gardening or in the tub, somebody telephones. Now the telephone company recommends that one let the phone ring ten times before assuming no one is home. Even when I have to pick up the baby and come inside, I can make it by the fourth ring. But, by then, whoever it is has hung up. I've wasted my time, and I'm

Please, please, won't you say something in your column about inconsiderate people who hang up before the person they're calling has a chance to answer?—FEDUP

Dear F.U.: Consider it said! Here's an idea that won't save you steps, but can at least let you shrug off the hang-ups. Alert friends to the situation and ask that they stay on the line through ten rings. Then when you're greeted with a buzz, you can assume it was only a telephone salesman anyway.—H.

Dear Helen: I've heard that eating fermented peanut butter gives you a better "trip" than smoking banana peels. True?—RESEARCHER

Dear Res: The only "trip" you'll get from fermented peanut butter is to the bathroom where you'll be very sick. . . . And it serves you right!

P.S. If you want a trip on a banana skin, you'd better step on it.—H.

Dear Helen: As an orange grower, I resent all this publicity being given to bananas. The white inside layer of the orange is thicker than the inner peel of the banana, and I'm quite sure that dried and smoked, it would have the same effect which, of course, is created in the imagination of the smoker.

When a correspondent says, "It's enough to make me go out and smoke a banana!" I must ask for equal time. We orange men have to live too, you know.—TO SMOKE AN ORANGE

Dear Readers: . . . All right, let's hear it from the grapefruit, lemon, tangerine and egg plant people. . . .

You know, the banana nuts could do just as well as smoking corn silk. Grandpa learned all about that 50 years ago—when his "trips" (if caught) were to the woodshed.—H.

Dear Helen: Thank you for printing those fine letters from husbands on "How Best To Treat a Wife." I am saving them for my children. They have helped me, oh, so much already, for they tell young people how to get the most out of married life—something I'm trying hard to teach mine.

My husband is not this kind of man. He firmly believes that women were put on the earth to cater to man's needs, that we're second-class citizens who should never have been given the right to vote. He treats me well in that he feeds and clothes me and the family, but companionship and real affection is not for vase, which he considers women to be.

I'm glad I now have guidelines so that our sons will realize women really ARE sometimes treated as persons, not slaves.—DOVNGRADED WIFE

Television Emmy Awards Handed Out

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Don Knotts won his fifth Emmy as a jittery deputy sheriff and a weeping Lucille Ball got her first Emmy in 12 years at the Television Academy's 19th annual awards.

In a season blasted by many critics as generally poor, the award for outstanding comedy series went Sunday night to "The Monkees," the weekly antics of four Beatles-like musicians. NBC claims their "mod clothes and long hairdos reflect the 'now' attitude of today's teen-age generation."

At televised ceremonies in Los Angeles and New York hotels, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences chose also among winners for 1966-67:

Variety series: The Andy Williams Show.

Dramatic series: "Mission: Impossible."

Single dramatic program: "Death of a Salesman"

Musical program: "Brigadoon." This show won the most awards—five—collecting also for technical and lighting direction, electronic cameraman and variety direction.

Runner-up was "Mission: Impossible" with four statuettes. Its feminine star, Barbara Bain, told a reporter: "I was totally surprised. I haven't had as liquid a pair of knees since the day I was married."

Her husband, Martin Landau, also of "Mission: Impossible," lost to Bill Cosby of "I Spy" in the race among actors in dramatic series.

Cosby, a Negro, repeated his win of last year. There was some surprise that the Emmy didn't go this time to his costar, Robert Culp, to even matters.

Don Knotts, collecting his Emmy as deputy Barney Fife on the Andy Griffith Show, said "I really don't know what to say except thank you very much."

Knotts won Emmies in 1961-63 as a regular on the series. Last year and this he won for guest appearances.

The show's Frances Bavier won a supporting-role Emmy after seven years of playing fussy, good-hearted Aunt Bea. Writer-actor-director Carl Reiner won his 10th and 11th Emmies as performer and writer on the Sid Caesar Special.

That show, aired April 5, reunited players and three writers of Caesar's "Show of Shows" of 10 years ago.

The reunion special and its five writers won Emmies. CBS won the most Emmies—197. ABC, moving out of third for the first time, was next with 12. NBC, which usually sees-saws in the lead with CBS, trailed with 10.

Government Class Helps Lower Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal debt is $1.97 lower thanks to a high school government class.

Class members took up a collection and sent their check to the Treasury Department to help retire the debt which by comparison to their contribution is staggering—about $228 billion.

The class donation went into a special fund for debt retirement which will celebrate its sixth anniversary this month and probably will reach its first million dollars within the next year.

The fund isn't designed to wipe out the entire debt. It's simply a handy place for debt-retiring gifts.

Through April 30, the special fund had collected $909,066.82, most of it from the will of the late Susan Vaughan Clayton of Houston, Tex. She willed half the income from a trust fund to the federal government to help retire the debt.

She and Rep. Charles Bennett, D-Fla., sponsor of the legislation which created the special fund, are the only donors of record. Bennett contributed the first $1,000. The Treasury Department declined to identify other donors—including the government class.

Donations since last July 1 totaled $93,173.84 and ran from one shilling—14 cents—to $90, $18.33 from the Clayton trust fund.

Before the special fund was created, the Treasury tossed any debt contributions into its general fund.

The $1.97 donation was accompanied by a brief note which merely said the money was to be used to reduce the debt.

Here's Some Farming Chinese Style

By CHIE NISHIO
CHENGCHOW, China (AP) — In this capital of Honan — one of the richest of China's provinces — I saw a man who looked like a beggar. My interpreter told me he was a former rich land owner.

Mao Tse-tung's revolution has changed the face of the Chinese countryside. The beggared land owner is one example. The communes are a bigger one.

We went to a commune near here with a population of 4,710 — 427 families, 1,450 workers. In 1937, the area was bombed by the Japanese and the farmers had to quit their villages in the van of the Japanese army.

Once, all the land was owned by 18 people, we were told, and farmers were the beggars. First there was a farmers' association, then cooperatives and finally the commune in October 1958.

It grew many vegetables in hothouses during 1966, but it had to buy rice from the government. It hopes by 1969 to be self-sufficient in rice.

The commune here is one of the smaller ones. The biggest we saw was the Red Star Commune outside Peking.

It has 55,000 people, 22,000 acres of land, and obviously is a showpiece. Short of water and short of iron pipes, it solved the problem by building cement pipes for irrigation.

It possesses relatively few tractors — only 67 — grows 40,000 tons of vegetables a year, 14,000 tons of fruit, raises 5,000 head of cattle, 25,000 pigs. It also has 11 small factories and 1,700 factory workers.

A going concern — or so we were told — it makes powdered milk, vegetable oil, flour, tile, and steel nuts — but no bolts. It has 15 primary schools, 60 junior high schools, and 11,000 students; 3 theaters, 6 dispensaries, 14 doctors, 140 nurses.

The Communist capital may have more banquets than the Nationalists ever did for this commune sends off 110,000 succulent Peking ducks to the festive boards each year.

Will Allow U.S. Ship to Dock

MANILA (AP) — Philippine officials said today the U.S. nuclear cargo ship Savannah will be allowed to dock at Manila later this month.

Agreement was reached after a meeting between Philippine and U.S. Embassy officials Thursday during which it was stressed that the nuclear-powered ship is safe. Customs officials had expressed fears of a nuclear accident.

depth of civilization. And the knowledge of how dependent we are on the stimulation of other people."

The Galts returned to this country, she said, for the children's education. Katrina, 18, Miss Baxter's daughter by her marriage to the late actor John Hodiak, is in boarding school in California.

Anne's rustic marital venture reached a further note of finality with the announcement in February of the Galts' separation. There will be a divorce, she said Monday.

Miss Baxter was at work in the acting trade she plies best — taut melodrama — in "The Midnight Patient," her second of NEC's two-hour "World Premiere" shows. Since her return she also has done two theatrical features — "The Tall Women," produced in Spain, and "The Busy Body," with Sid Caesar at Paramount, but: "A lot of people I've met thought I was still milking cows in Australia."

New Pressure in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's central government put new pressure on the secessionist Eastern region today by banning shipping and fishing along the Eastern coast and closing the lone road link between the East and South.

The East's military governor, Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, declared Tuesday that the region now is the independent republic of Biafra.

The federal government previously announced an embargo against Eastern ports, cut off the East's international cable, and radiotelephone services and froze Eastern bank accounts in Lagos.

Reds Take Another by Single Run

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are going fishing today but Manager Dave Bristol may have to make another trip to his corner barber shop.

If he does, you can bet he won't ask for a close shave.

The National League-leading Reds ran up a 5-0 lead against Atlanta Sunday, then held off the Braves 5-4 for their fourth straight victory. It was the 14th one-run game for the Reds in their last 15.

"I had a haircut the other day and had all the gray hairs cut out," the 33-year-old Cincinnati pilot cracked after giving all the Reds a day off today.

Cincinnati's third one-run verdict over Atlanta in three days protected the Reds three-game lead over second place St. Louis, which nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3. Third place San Francisco swept a doubleheader from the fading New York Mets 7-0 and 5-0, Pittsburgh trimmed Los Angeles 4-1 and Philadelphia overcame Houston 6-1 in other games.

Kansas City divided an American League doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, winning the nightcap 5-4 after bowing 2-0, while Detroit slammed New York 11-7 in 13 innings after the Yankees took the doubleheader opener 3-0. Cleveland blanked Boston 3-0, Minnesota shaded California 8-7 in 10 innings and Baltimore outlasted Washington 7-9 in 19 innings.

The Reds' string of squeakers — interrupted only by a 6-1 victory at Pittsburgh two weeks ago — began on May 21 with a 2-1 loss to Philadelphia in 18 innings. They have broken even in the 14 one-run games, which include four overtime struggles.

Reliever Bob Lee, newly acquired from Los Angeles, stopped the Braves' comeback Sunday, preserving Jim Maloney's fifth victory in seven decisions. Lee came on in the eighth after Hank Aaron's 15th homer closed the gap to one run against Maloney in the seventh.

The Reds scored twice in the third inning and Leo Cardenas capped a three-run burst in the fourth with a two-run homer.

Lou Brock smacked his third homer in three games leading off the first inning, then broke a 3-3 tie with a run-scoring single

Bosox Think Trade Gives Club Chance

CLEVELAND (AP) — The eighth as the Cards surprising Boston Red Sox, topped Chicago behind the three-hit pitching of rookie Dick Hughes.

Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly pulled St. Louis even in the sixth after the Cubs took a 3-2 lead in the fifth with the help of center fielder Curt Flood's first error in 227 games.

Joe Gibbon, making his first start for the Glants this year, agreed with unusual optimism shackled the Mets on four hits that Bell could make the red Sox in the opener while Tito Fuentes a top contender in the American and Willie McCovey blasted three-run homers.

Mike McCormick completed the shutout sweep by scattering fly balls for grabs," O'Connell said. "I eight hits in the second game. think we can win it. We've got The veteran left-hander was backed by four double plays and Ollie Brown's three-run homer.

Roberto Clemente wrecked the Dodgers with two homers — a hard nose and iron fist in his good for all the Pittsburgh runs first season as Boston manager, — as southpaw Bob Veale admitted he was "overjoyed" gained his seventh victory by the trade announced Sunday against one loss. Veale needed minutes after the Red Sox ninth inning help from Roy dropped a 3-0 decision to the Face in prevailing over the Indians.

Dodgers' Don Drysdale. "Our guys have felt all along we have a chance to win it all winning streak to six games by and I think this will give us a rallying for six runs in the ninth good shot at it," Williams said. after being blanked on three hits by rookie Don Wilson over the first eight innings.

Johnny Callison's leadoff double ignited the rally and Johnny Briggs' three-run homer off reliever Carroll Sembera finished the Astros.

The deal with the Indians was swung at the risk of weakening the Boston bench. The Red Sox gave up two right-handed sluggers, first baseman Tony Horton and outfielder Don Demeter, to get Bell.

Despite a 1-5 record, including a pair of losses to the Red Sox this season, the 29-year-old Bell boasts a 96-92 mark since joining the Indians in 1958.

Tigers Back in First; Orioles Win

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Andy Etchebarren, unable to bunt, summoned enough energy to launch the high-flying Baltimore Orioles into the air, taking along a couple of patient young baseball fans who must have been flying even higher.

Etchebarren, after failing to bunt twice, cracked a two-run home run in the 19th inning that lifted the Orioles over Washington 7-5, Sunday, ending the longest game of the baseball season.

Beside bringing the Orioles their 14th triumph in 20 games, it sent them wining toward Friendship Airport, where two boys, about 15 years old, had waited through the marathon to fly with the players on a trip of a lifetime for a youngster.

Dick McAuliffe did not wait as long to send the Detroit Tigers back into first place in the American League as he blasted a grand slam homer in the 13th inning for an 11-7 victory over the New York Yankees in the nightcap of their twinbill. New York won the opener 2-0.

Chicago took first place by beating Kansas City 2-0 in the opener of their doubleheader and then fell back by losing 5-4.

Elsewhere in the league, Minnesota topped California 8-7 in 10 innings and Cleveland blanked Boston 3-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati stopped Atlanta 5-4, St. Louis edged Chicago 4-3, Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 4-1, Philadelphia tumbled Houston 6-1, and San Francisco swept the New York Mets 7-0 and 5-0.

The two boys in Baltimore were the only other passengers on the Orioles scheduled flight to California to play the Angels tonight. When they discovered they would be traveling with the Orioles, they waited patiently through almost 2 1/2 hours of departure delays until Etchebarren got them airborne.

"I didn't have much strength left," said the Baltimore catcher.

Etchebarren, who was supposed to have the day off, entered the game in the fifth inning. He ended the 5-hour and 18 minute game by connecting off Bob Priddy after Brooks Robinson singled.

The Orioles, who squandered a 4-0 lead, tied the game 5-5 in the seventh on a double by Russ Snyder and a single by Curt Blefary.

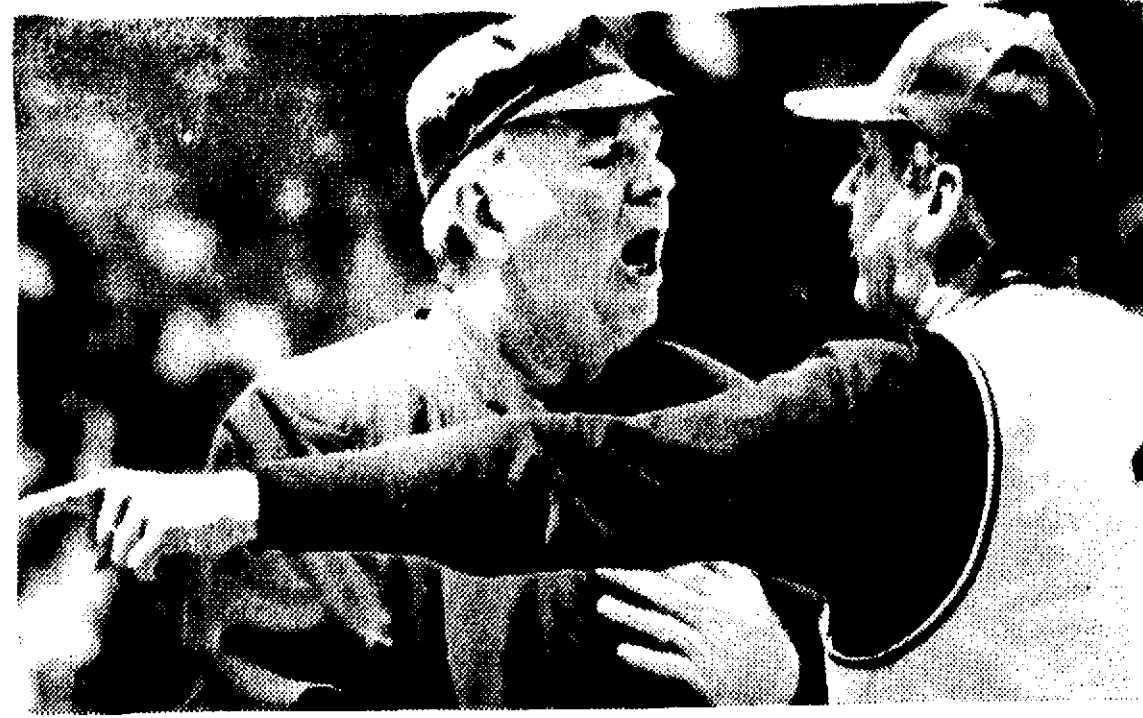

Wally Bunker, Eddie Watt, Eddie Fisher and winner Stu Miller blanked Washington after the Senators scored five times in the third.

McAuliffe unloaded his ninth season homer and fifth career slam with two out after Bill Freehan doubled and loser Dooley Womack walked two.

Pitcher Hank Aguirre had helped Detroit to an early 7-3 lead with a three-run triple, but a homer by John Kennedy started the Yankees back and Jake Gibbs tied it in the ninth with a pinch hit solo clout.

Al Downing, 6-3, hurled the Yankees to their first game victory with a five-hitter and got enough runs in the first inning on Joe Pepitone's two-run homer off Mickey Lolich.

The White Sox fell one game

Hill Fails to Fold, Wins at Memphis

By BOB GILBERT
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — His lead in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament dwindling, Dave Hill remembered four years ago at the Hot Springs Open when he overheard someone in the gallery remark: "Hill's folding up."

He didn't fold then, and he mustered enough courage and shook off the butterflies Sunday to win the $100,000 Memphis Open and the biggest check of his 10-year career—$20,000.

Through the first three rounds here, Hill steadily increased his lead to five strokes but began to skid Sunday when Johnny Pott made a dramatic surge on the last 10 holes.

Pott, playing one group in front of Hill, narrowed the gap back of Detroit when pitcher Jim Nash capped a four-run fourth inning with a decisive run-scoring single that put Kansas City ahead 5-1 in their nightcap. Nash picked up the victory, but left in the eighth inning when Tommie Agee closed the gap to one run with a two-run homer.

Tommy John had started the White Sox off right with his first shutout of the year, a five-hitter that protected two runs driven home by Ken Berry's fourth-inning single. Jim "Catfish" Hunter took the loss.

Cleveland's Steve Hargan, 7-4, stopped Boston with his fourth shutout of the season, also a five-hitter. He got homer help from Leon Wagner, who hit his eighth leading off the fourth. Chuck Hinton and Fred Whitfield singled in the other runs.

Bob Allison put a stop to another extra inning affair when he squeezed home pinch runner Ted Uhlaender in the 10th inning for Minnesota's victory. Uhlaender ran for Rich Rollins, who opened the inning with a single, and reached third on a walk and forceout.

The Twins and Angels had homered each other to a stand-off before the bunt as Harmon Killebrew belted a 500-foot solo drive and Zollo Versailles hit one with two on for the Twins, and Rick Reichardt hit a two-run blast and Bob Rodgers and John Werhas homered with none on for the Angels.

Negro Group Talks With Clay on Draft

CLEVELAND (AP) — A group of well known Negro athletes wanted the straight-from-the-source showdown on Cassius Clay's stand against Army induction and they got it Sunday. "After 2 1/2 hours of friendly discussion we decided he is sincere in his religious belief," said Jim Brown, former Cleveland Browns' fullback and head of the Negro Industrial and Economic Union (NIEU), which invited Clay to the meeting.

While a crowd blocked the sidewalk outside the NIEU office, Clay explained to the professional athletes and Law Alcindor of UCLA that he refused to be drafted because of religious beliefs, that he is a Muslim minister.

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his heavyweight title by boxing organizations after he refused to be drafted in Houston April 28.

He faces a trial in U.S. District Court there June 19 on a charge of evading the military draft.

"We talked frankly with him and he explained his reasons in detail," said John Wooten, a Browns' guard and an officer in the NIEU. "It was a question of faith and we did not try to change his mind."

Venturi Heads for Detroit's Buick Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — His hands so nearly healed that he can play in a chill wind, Ken Venturi leaves today for Detroit and the Buick Open — but with his hopes set on winning the National Open Golf Tournament, which he shared once before, in 1964.

Venturi believes he has an excellent chance in the U.S. Open at Baltusrol, N.J., June 15-18 if he can putt well. He hopes to tune his game in the Buick Open starting Thursday. He used that tourney — in which he finished fifth that year — to sharpen his game when he won the National Open.

Venturi, who just turned 36, has been playing daily.

"I'm hitting the ball better than ever," he reports. "Unbelievably, my drives are longer and straighter. I don't know why, but perhaps because my hands are stronger."

Two years ago, Ken had a severe circulatory problem. His hands peeled, he lost feeling in them, and he couldn't grip a club.

Now, the damp chill of a rainy spring has bothered him only a little. His left forefinger and right middle finger still peel and tend to stiffen slightly.

But he shot a 69 over the par 72 California Club course where a qualifying round for the National Open will be played Tuesday.

In all, 536 players will compete for 123 places in the sectional qualifying rounds today and Tuesday in 14 locations. Twenty-seven players, including Venturi, are exempt from all qualifying.

The others exempt from all qualifying for the June 15-18 finals at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J., either as Open champions from the last five years, the current PGA champion, among the top 15 in last year's Open or among the top 15 PGA money winners are: Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer, Dave Marr, Phil Rodgers, Bobby Nichols, George Archer, Wes Ellis, Doug Sanders, Mason Rudolph, amateur John Miller, Don January, Ben Hogan, Rod Funseth, Rives McBee, amateur Bob Murphy, Frank Beard, Gay Brewster, Bob Goalby, Bert Yancey, R.H. Sikes, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Gene Littler.

Qualifications will be held at seven sites today — Denver, Chicago, Kansas City, metropolitan New York, Cincinnati, Portland, Ore., and Memphis, Tenn.

Tuesday's sites are at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, Atlanta, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Dallas.

Damascus Easily Wins Belmont Stake

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Damascus, with an easy victory in the $138,700 Belmont Stakes added to his 3-year-old championship credentials, probably will make his next start in the $35,000-added Leonard Richards Stakes at Delaware Park June 17 with no meeting with his arch-rival, Dr. Fager, in line for the immediate future.

"I want first to talk with the owners," said trainer Frank Whiteley Jr. from his Laurel, Md., home after seeing that Damascus was safely back in his quarters at Delaware Park.

"But I would like to start him in the 1 1/4 miles of the Leonard Richards and then take dead aim on some of those rich Chicago stakes, particularly the American Derby in August."

With Damascus pointing for the Leonard Richards and Dr. Fager aiming for either the $50,000-added Saranac at Aqueduct July 1 or the $100,000-added Classic at Arlington Park June 24, it is very doubtful when the twain will meet to determine the 3-year-old title.

Dr. Fager didn't race in either of the Triple Crown events but he finished first by 6 1/2 lengths in the Jersey Derby only to be disqualified and edged Damascus in the one mile of the Gotham at Aqueduct on April 15 in their lone head-on meeting.

Running the 1 1/4 miles of the Belmont Stakes in 2:28 4-5 for Jockey Bill Shoemaker's fourth victorious ride in the classic, Damascus earned $104,950 to

Travelers Lose to Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Albuquerque defeated the Arkansas Travelers 6-3 in a Texas League baseball game here Sunday.

Winner Mike Kekich went all the way for Albuquerque, although he had to work his way out of trouble all afternoon to keep his record in tact at 4-0.

Arkansas collected 12 hits off him and had men on base in every inning except the eighth.

The first four Dodgers hit safely in the first inning, with Willie Crawford kicking things off with a single. He scored on a double by Don Williams, who raced home with another tally on a double by Bill Sutakis.

Starter Joe DiFazio still hadn't gotten the first man out before Mel Corbo lined a single to rightfield that brought Sutakis in with a third run.

Arkansas scored once in the second and twice in the fifth to knot the count before Albuquerque put together three hits and a pair of walks for another three-run burst in the seventh inning.

Austin used one of its three big home runs to jump off to a 3-0 first inning lead and topple the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs 7-2 in other Texas League action, while Amarillo pounded El Paso 11-3.

Arkansas, which was within a half game of league leading Amarillo last week, now is two games out. El Paso is in third, four games out, and Albuquerque, Austin and Dallas - Fort Worth make up the second division.

Dallas-Fort Worth is at Arkansas tonight. Amarillo is at Albuquerque and Austin is at El Paso.

run his 1967 bankroll to $365,410 on five victories, one second and one third in seven races.

Damascus was the strong Belmont favorite, paying $3.60 for $2. But favorites were not so fortunate in the other gold-laden feature of last Saturday — the $119,200 Californian at Hollywood Park.

Pretense, winner of the Santa Anita and Gulfstream Park Handicap last winter, couldn't do better than third as Biggs won the 1 1/16-mile race for a payoff of $25,40. And Native Diver, winner of 32 stakes, was among the runners.

Appeals for Speck Appear Very Likely

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — If Richard Speck, convicted killer of eight young nurses, is sentenced to the electric chair, the outlook is for a series of drawn-out appeals.

A jury of seven men and five women convicted Speck April 15 of eight murders in a townhouse dormitory last July 14. The jury recommended that Speck be executed. Sentencing was set for today.

An appeal to a higher court is automatic in cases involving capital punishment and the procedures for making such appeals nearly always take a great deal of time.

For example, there are eight condemned men in the Cook County jail. Through various avenues of appeal they have managed to avoid execution for two to 13 years.

Speck's lawyer, Gerald W. Getty, said he would fight a death sentence "through all the courts in the land."

But the Circuit Court judge could impose a lesser sentence if he saw fit, and Getty has made it clear he would settle for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Speck was found guilty of rounding up nine young nurses in their dormitory at night and slaying eight of them, either stabbing or strangling.

The ninth nurse, Corazon Amuro, 23, a Philippine exchange student, escaped by hiding under a bed.

She was the state's principal witness at Speck's trial and pointed him out as the killer.

Speck, a 25-year-old drifter, was transported from the Cook County Jail to the Peoria County Jail Sunday under heavy guard. Speck was tried in Peoria after Getty contended he could not get a fair trial in Chicago.

In the latest of a series of moves in Speck's behalf, Getty brought a psychiatrist to a hearing Friday. The psychiatrist testified that Speck had a serious mental disease and could not control his behavior at times of high tension.

But the prosecution pointed out that five psychiatrists and a general doctor had agreed last fall that Speck was mentally competent.

Third Night of Rioting in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Three nights of rock throwing, looting, arson and scattered sniper fire in the predominantly Negro Roxbury section have left more than 70 persons injured, 100 arrested, and property damage estimated in the millions.

Three state representatives from Boston Negro sections asked Republican Gov. John A. Volpe today to declare the riot-torn sector a disaster area to make loans and federal aid available to businessmen there.

"The people in this community are appalled at the violence, wanton waste, deliberate destruction of property, the loss of jobs held by people in the community and the unnecessary escalation of the problems in financing insurance and achieving economic resurgence of these areas," a letter said.

It was signed by Democratic Reps. Royal B.olling, Michael E. Haynes and Franklin W. Holgate, Negro leaders who have been credited with helping to keep peace in the city's sprawling Negro districts in past years.

The focal point of violence Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights was Blue Hill Avenue, a major street leading from the city's shopping and business sections to the southeast residential areas and suburbs.

Fire fighters responding to a call at an intersection about 10 p.m. Sunday were pelted with rocks thrown from rooftops.

Later at another intersection a sniper opened fire on police from a third-floor apartment. Police returned the fire and searched the building but failed to find the sniper. No one was hit.

Another incident at an intersection led to the arrest of a man who was charged with unlawful discharge of a firearm and unlawful possession of a firearm.

Eleven persons, including seven policemen and two children, were treated at city hospital for minor injuries and released. That brought to more than 70 the number of those injured.

No accurate estimate of damage has been made, although community leaders place the loss in millions of dollars. Most of the damage was in smashed store and car windows and from fires and looting.

Police said Sunday's outbreak was the mildest of the three nights. "It was only sporadic," said Deputy Police Supt. William A. Bradley, "most of it rock throwing."

The violence was touched off Friday after a group of mothers demonstrating for better treatment from welfare workers and quicker processing of claims were ejected by police from a city building in the Grove Hall section of Roxbury.

The incident grew into an all-night running battle between police and small groups of looters.

Police said about 1,000 officers took on about 1,000 rioters during the night. Damage from that outbreak was estimated at $500,000.

Saturday night's outbreak left 15 persons injured, including a fireman shot in the wrist.

Police and fire fighters tracked down a barrage of fire alarms, most of them false, Saturday night. Sunday's disturbance followed a similar pattern. Fires set by arsonists were reported all three nights.

Much of Roxbury, especially a 15-block segment of Blue Hill Avenue was littered with broken glass, rocks, bricks, bottles and beer cans. Many store fronts were boarded shut.

For example, there are eight condemned men in the Cook County jail. Through various avenues of appeal they have managed to avoid execution for two to 13 years.

Speck's lawyer, Gerald W. Getty, said he would fight a death sentence "through all the courts in the land."

But the Circuit Court judge could impose a lesser sentence if he saw fit, and Getty has made it clear he would settle for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Speck was found guilty of rounding up nine young nurses in their dormitory at night and slaying eight of them, either stabbing or strangling.

The ninth nurse, Corazon Amuro, 23, a Philippine exchange student, escaped by hiding under a bed.

She was the state's principal witness at Speck's trial and pointed him out as the killer.

Speck, a 25-year-old drifter, was transported from the Cook County Jail to the Peoria County Jail Sunday under heavy guard. Speck was tried in Peoria after Getty contended he could not get a fair trial in Chicago.

In the latest of a series of moves in Speck's behalf, Getty brought a psychiatrist to a hearing Friday. The psychiatrist testified that Speck had a serious mental disease and could not control his behavior at times of high tension.

But the prosecution pointed out that five psychiatrists and a general doctor had agreed last fall that Speck was mentally competent.

Israel Has Lost Faith in the UN

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The United Nations' failure to find a peaceful solution to the crisis in the Middle East is eroding Israel's faith in the organization, an Israeli diplomat said here Saturday night.

Ambassador Arieh Eshel, deputy director general of the Israeli foreign ministry, said that unless the UN Security Council came up with a solution acceptable to the United States, the Soviet Union, Israel and the United Arab Republic, "we will not acquiesce."

"We are all hoping and praying for peace," he said, "but the chances seem to be 50-50, and of course this matter can't go on for an indefinite time."

Eshel was in Little Rock to speak at a dinner honoring Dr. Ira E. Sanders, Rabbi emeritus of congregation B'Nai Israel.

In a press conference at the Little Rock airport, Eshel blamed the crisis on "unilateral aggression" by UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

"We hope mankind can thwart it, something must be done. If they force us to settle this by means of arms, I think we can beat them..."

Eshel and Israel couldn't tolerate Nasser's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba because it was a "lifeline" for Israeli imports and exports.

Attorneys Plan Appeal for Officer

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Attorneys for Capt. Howard B. Levy, an Army doctor sentenced to three years in prison on charges of disobedience and disloyalty, plan to seek his release on bail this week.

The 30-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., dermatologist was led in handcuffs from the court-martial room to a stockade at Ft. Jackson Saturday after his sentencing.

Levy's trial was on refusal to train Green Beret combat medics of the Special Forces, and for speaking out to soldiers against U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

He once said he would go to jail before serving in Vietnam. He says he is not a pacifist but that he believes the United States has no business in Vietnam.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Levy of Brooklyn, visited him Sunday before returning to Brooklyn. Otherwise, only his attorneys could see him.

Charles Morgan of Atlanta, American Civil Liberties Union lawyer who defended Levy, said an appeal for bail will be made to the Secretary of the Army. Meanwhile, Levy's case goes through routine military review channels.

AP&L Plans $14 Million Nuclear Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Reeves Ritchie, president of Arkansas Power & Light Co., said Saturday the firm would build a $140 million nuclear electric power generating station on one of three sites in Arkansas.

Ritchie said inflated prices being asked for the land by the owners had delayed acquisition of the site. The plant will be the first of its kind in the Middle South and Southwest regions of the country.

Ritchie said the three sites being considered were 1,100 acres between London and Russellville in Pope County on the Arkansas River, an area near West Memphis known as 40-acre Rock and an area on the White River between DeValls Bluff and Augusta.

Baptist Revival Underway

The Angel Martinez revival crusade at First Baptist Church got off to a good start Sunday. The evangelist attracted large crowds, and there were about a dozen decisions for Christ. Pete Nunez (noon-yes) led the singing.

The morning sermon revolved around Psalm 23, a psalm of David in which Dr. Martinez drew an analogy of ancient times to that of today.

"The Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven," was the topic of the evening sermon. It was the moving story of John 3:16 in which the whole story of salvation is wrapped up in one paragraph... the greatest paragraph ever written in any language.

The evangelist broke the paragraph into four divisions:

1. The Cause of Salvation, in which he declared that salvation originates with the goodness of God, his love and his mercies. "There are many kinds of love, but the highest expression of love is that which comes from heaven. It's God's love. It's unique. It's universal. All mankind is included, for here is a Man that takes away the sin of the world."

2. The Cost of Salvation: "For our salvation, God ripped out his heart and put it on a cross, high on the hill of Calvary. People can now go to the cross to live, not to die."

"Jesus the Man was no physical weakling, no pale anemic. He couldn't have been and lived the life recorded in the gospels. Nobody like that could have walked through a lynching mob or thrown out a hand touching him or thrown out the money-changers in the temple without suffering immediate reprisal.

"I submit that Jesus of Nazareth was a strong, healthy, manly-appearing person whose body was firm muscled by honest toil and rigorous discipline, otherwise he could not have endured the awful agony of the cross. He was about six-four, weight about 240, and handsome."

3. Condition of Salvation: That whosoever believeth "This condition is in reach of everybody, everywhere. It's always been a mystery why we have to beg people to believe, but to be saved we must believe."

4. Consequence of Salvation: Shall not perish, but have everlasting life. "When God saves you, he redeems you forever. Everyone needs to be saved and have a heavenly father."

Services continue nightly at 7:30 through next Sunday. Morning services will be held at 10 o'clock beginning Tuesday.

Killed in Car, Bike Collision

WALDO, Ark. (AP) — A collision between a bicycle and a car Friday claimed the life Saturday of Fred Poling, 34, of Waldo.

Officers said Joseph Pennington of McNeil, the driver of the car, was placed in Columbia County Jail. Authorities said Pennington attempted to pass three cars on the right shoulder of U.S. 82 about three miles east of Waldo and struck Poling's bicycle.

What About Space Rescue?

The nation was shocked and a space program thrown into limbo when a space capsule accident killed three astronauts earlier this year. Yet the horror of the first known space program fatalities might have been even more pronounced had they occurred in that foreign world of cold and weightless void. Rescue and escape during a space flight or on the moon have been widely discussed and researched. Several possibilities have been offered, ranging from bail-out by space capsule occupants to rendezvous and rescue using another ship.

Space officials lean toward a form of crew bail-out now, due to the problems involved in getting another ship off the ground and linked up with the one in distress. Among bail-out procedures suggested in research by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and major aerospace companies, is the use of a "cocoon," a pressurized lightweight container in which the astronaut could live outside his capsule, if need be, until ground rescue came.

For complete bail-out from ship to ground, an escape system called MOOSE (Manned Orbital Operations Safety Equipment) has been envisioned. In this plan, the astronaut becomes a human satellite from the time he leaves the ship until he fires de-orbit rockets that hurl him into the atmosphere and then to the ground. His body would be protected by a life-supporting shield.

Similar to the MOOSE concept is the space parachute which looks like an inverted "coolie hat," in the drawing upper right. The astronaut lies in the bottom of the "hat" for protection from heat during re-entry.

With the advent of actual space stations housing crews of several men, the need for rendezvous will become imperative, not only for crew replacement but in the event of damage to the station which must be repaired in space, as visualized below. By the time space stations are in use, however, scientists expect to have ferry and ambulance service much more sophisticated.

In the meantime, space officials hope training and preparation for today's flights will prevent the emergencies that will inevitably occur, some day.

In the News

GREECE'S KING Constantine vaulted into the news when an army coup in his country declared absolute power in his name, arresting his political enemies. First frowned upon by the rest of the world for setting up a dictatorship, Constantine was later reported to be opposing the military junta and making a "valiant stand" against them at the risk of losing his throne.

THE WELL CHILD®

Salt Intake Reduction Blood Pressure Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although high blood pressure is usually considered a disease of persons who are past 40, it may occur in children. When it does it is important to determine the cause. The most common type is that associated with acute nephritis. Other causes include congenital narrowing of the aorta, overactivity of the thyroid and tumors of the adrenals.

When no cause can be found the condition is called essential hypertension. The blood pressure in a child with this symptom is usually subject to wide fluctuations—high when the child is excited or apprehensive and normal when he is calm. If the sight of a doctor or a blood pressure apparatus makes him apprehensive, it may be difficult to get a normal reading except when he is asleep. Such a child is likely to have a high blood pressure all his life unless it is treated.

The first line of treatment is to remove the cause if possible. This should be combined with treatment to keep the diastolic pressure or lower reading within normal limits at all times. Cutting down the salt intake is an important part of the treatment of these children.

Q—My son, 12, had a bad case of poison oak on his face last October. Our doctor said the spots would fade out in time but they haven't done so and my son is very sensitive about his appearance. What can we do?

A—The poison oak has left your son with a chronic contact dermatitis. A Pragmatine ointment, obtainable only on a doctor's prescription, is often successful in clearing up the inflamed areas. If this doesn't work, a skin specialist should be consulted.

Q—Is there any cure for spina bifida occulta? Would surgery help?

Oswald: "The finesse is undoubtedly the best known play in bridge. A few players hate to finesse but for every one of that type there must be hundreds who finesse when they really shouldn't."

Jim: "South was one of these finesse-happy individuals. He played dummy's ten of spades at trick one and was delighted when it held the trick. This put him in dummy and gave him a chance to try the trump finesse. It lost to the king and then the hand collapsed on poor South. West led the four of spades. East ruffed and returned a club. West took his ace and set the hand with another spade lead to be ruffed by his partner."

Oswald: "South's play was really bad. He could only gain a trick by the finesse if East had started with exactly the king and one trump because he could not get back to dummy to repeat. He would lose a trick if West held a singleton king and also he should have recognized the danger signal when East played the nine of spades at trick one. Of course, if South had gone up with his ace of hearts and led a second heart the defense could still have gotten one ruff but it took two ruffs to beat the game contract."

Jim: "I mentioned that East returned a club to put West in. This lead did not represent blind luck. East and West were using obvious suit preference signals and when West led the four of spades he knew that his partner was going to ruff it. He led his lowest spade to tell his partner to return the lower side suit. If West had wanted a diamond return he would have led the eight of spades, or even the queen had he wanted to be sensational."

'Rat Race' on to Hire College Men

By M. ROBERT SELIGSOHN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Can a college-trained, draft-eligible man find happiness in industry today? Yes and no, say the nation's employment agencies, which have made a careful study of the situation.

Seems that large companies don't care if you're a target for Uncle Sam, while smaller firms find it economically unfeasible to make an investment in someone who might be drafted.

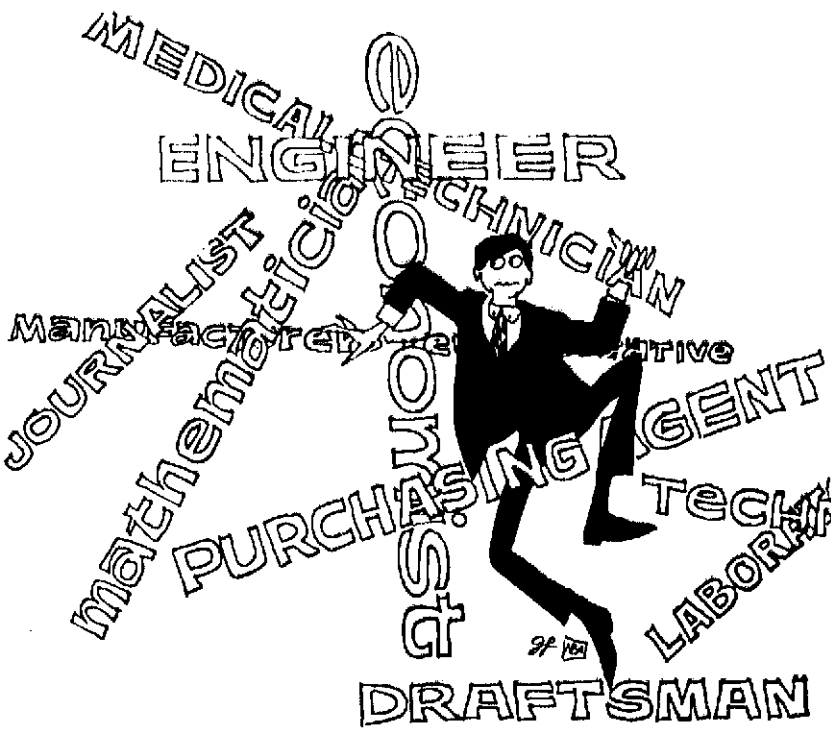

Agencies, which have gained more and more stature with the campus job-hunting set during the last few years, have to know such things in order to get a chunk of the college action.

Why should a college student use an employment agency to find a job? Rudy Tatum of Personnel Services Inc. in Jackson, Miss., John W. Willard of J. W. Willard Associates in Syracuse, N.Y., and John Harris of Harris Associates in San Francisco, have the answers.

"An employment agency must have a selection of good jobs or it couldn't survive the fierce competition provided by the college placement service," says Tatum.

Willard points out, "The college graduate's need is not for a job but for the 'right job.' On campus, he is made aware mostly of opportunities with larger companies, because only such companies can afford the expense of college recruiting. However, he might find his best opportunities with smaller or medium-sized firms, completely unknown to him. Employment agencies can provide this broad selection."

These three men were among five agency heads questioned by Moderator magazine, the national magazine for college men. Moderator wanted to find out what variations in employment patterns might exist for college students and what employment agencies were doing generally.

All respondents are or were recent regional directors of the National Employment Association. Besides Harris, Willard and Tatum, A. H. Harter Jr. of Snelling and Snelling, St. Louis, and Richard Peterson of Ellis Employment Service in Minneapolis responded.

Each agency indicated that demand exceeds supply for the college-trained. A "rat race" appears to be shaping up in 1967, according to one respondent.

On the draft issue, Harter found that in St. Louis most firms are hiring as if the draft were no concern. Where training is involved, draft-age men are being avoided in Minneapolis. In Jackson, a "small but significant" number of companies refuse to ask draft status for patriotic reasons, but the majority of firms screen out applicants who are wide open. Most companies avoid hiring draft-eligibles in San Francisco, but a trend is developing to hire them where special skills are involved.

The agencies report the major trends developing in their business as being, on the one hand, more specialized agencies (that handle one discipline (sales, EDP, executives) but, on the other, growth of large department store agencies where each department is specialized. They expect continued growth in franchising by large national firms, greater use of electronic data processing methods as an adjunct to placement procedures, the development of professional standards, and more employers paying agency fees instead of the applicants.

Willard noted something that every student should be aware of, the sooner the better: "One of the most urgent needs as we see it is for college students to develop a sense of occupational direction during their college years. Even those who have chosen to specialize often show a lack of insight into their own talents, capacities and interests and what these mean in terms of specific occupations."

"The frequently expressed desire of college graduates for 'management training programs' is an evidence of this lack of insight. Such training programs — encouraged by employers — become an easy way either to defer an occupational decision or to let someone else make the decision for him.

"Some large companies, for instance, tell the graduate that they will employ him, study his needs, and through exposing him to various facets of their business, place him in the best place at some future time. This might be very desirable for some people, but for others it simply means letting someone else make decisions for him that he should make for himself."

A DUPLICATE of last year's design, but printed nearly twice as large, the 1967 Christmas stamp will again reproduce a portion of Hans Memling's "Madonna and Child with Angels," 15th-century Flemish oil painting hanging in Washington's National Gallery of Art. The five-cent holiday special stamp will be issued Nov. 6.

Gallant Act of a Non-Hero

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BONG SON, Vietnam—(NEA)—It has been said that soldiers commit very little bravery in war, only desperate acts of self-preservation.

Phil Wescott will agree. He saved a friend's life here, but he insists he's no hero.

It happened a few nights ago. An outfit out of the First Air Cavalry Division was camped for the evening atop a nearby mountain.

Wescott, a Pfc. from Fairfax, Calif., was sharing a pup tent with a companion. The evening was still. A steady rain lightly peppered the canvas enclosure. The two men were asleep.

Then it all started. Without warning an enemy artillery shell crashed into the U.S. position and filled the area with sharp slivers of exploding iron.

Dozens of the fragments tore into Wescott's tent and as the soldier snapped awake he heard his companion moan softly in pain.

"I'm hit," the man mumbled.

"Let's get out of here."

"Wait."

"What's that?"

"Voices."

"Shhhh! They're right outside."

The two men hugged the earth in silence. The clamor of rifle shots and screaming was on all sides. It was easy to guess what had happened. Enemy troops were overrunning the American camp.

Finally, the voices were blotted out by the dribbling blast of a machine gun—and Wescott's tent was sprayed with bullets.

Then silence.

Wescott's eyes bounced around the blackness of the tent. Rain fell through the fresh rips. The soldier reached for his friend.

"You hit bad?" he whispered.

"I think so."

"Where is it?"

"Along my side. It hurts."

"Take it easy."

"Where they now, Phil?"

"I don't know."

"Will they come back?"

"I don't know."

Wescott lied. He could still sense the enemy moving about outside. He was sick with fear. And he knew damn well they'd be back.

The men stopped talking. From time to time the wounded man made a muffled sound. Wescott tried to listen for the enemy.

Wescott's rifle was not in the tent. He had left it in a bunker outside. He had only a .45 caliber pistol. He grimaced as he felt its plastic grip. He knew nothing about the weapon. He had, in fact, never fired one before in his life.

Nevertheless, he thrust the gun out to his front, his arm resting on the dirt floor. His head tucked up against his protruding shoulder.

He waited thus. His head spun with bewilderment. His body ached with the strain.

Finally, there was a rustle and some frantic foreign chatter. Wescott watched in horror as the flaps of his tent flew open and an enemy rifle poked its way inside.

Wescott raised his pistol, closed his eyes and squeezed the trigger.

The shot caught the intruder squarely. It socked him backwards and to his knees. Wescott swore angrily. He aimed again. And he shot and he shot and he shot.

Later, when it was all over, Pfc. Phil Wescott was rightly credited with saving the life of his wounded companion. But he objected to this.

"I'm not a hero," he said. "I just didn't want either of us killed."

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex H. WashburnTexas Threat to Arkansas Industry
Old and Futile One

A bulletin to the membership this week - end from Dr. Lester Sitzes, Jr., president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, reports that a Texas proposal to divert water from Red River is setting up a road block against construction of a paper mill complex near McNab, in our county, by Champion Papers-U.S. Plywood Corp.

"Company officials," the bulletin continues, "Are considering two sites for future expansion. The other site is in northern Alabama. A group of men representing Hempstead county were told that an announcement of which site had been chosen would be made late in May."

"They then asked company officials about the fate of the site which was not chosen, and were told that the company was not in the habit of buying plant sites unless construction was planned in the near future and indicated that construction of a second plant would probably proceed soon after the first one was completed."

Dr. Sitzes said his information on why the Texas proposal to divert Red River is disturbing Champion-U.S. Plywood plans for a mill at McNab came from Horace Cabe, Gurdon lumberman and capitalist who assembled the land along Little River and sold it to the big industrial firm. Continues the bulletin:

"Company officials state they are concerned about plans of the Texas Water Commission to divert a portion of Red River into Elmo Fork of Trinity River so as to increase the flow of the Trinity through Dallas and thus reduce the flow of the Red to the point of making it incapable of carrying the treated waste from the mill."

The bulletin concludes with reassuring words from Congressman John Paul Hammer-schmidt, the Red River Valley Association, and the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission - "that this Texas pipe dream will never come to pass."

If Champion Papers-U.S. Plywood Corp. imagines this to be a favorable statement contrived at this particular moment because a giant paper mill is at stake for out county I can assure them that this Texas talk about diverting Red River is not only a "pipe dream" but a very old and discredited one.

More than 10 years ago - long before Champion Papers-U.S. Plywood Corp. ever heard of Hempstead county - this newspaper picked up the Texas rumor at a meeting of Red River Valley Association, of which we are a long-standing member, and your editor called for a showdown. What happened more than 10 years ago is a matter of record in the pages of this newspaper, and in the files of Red River Association and the Arkansas congressional delegation in Washington.

Red River Valley denounced the Texas plan. The Arkansas congressional delegation guaranteed that Texas would never get a drop of Red River water, and Oklahoma and Louisiana lined up with us.

All this happened more than a decade ago. But I think Champion Papers-U.S. Plywood Corp. should be advised that it did happen - long before their proposed McNab mill came into view. The Texas Water Commission keeps on grinding out propaganda, but it has no more merit than the blustering of the classic cattle king trying to run all the neighboring ranchers away from the water-hole. But this isn't a first-class picture - it's old enough to be third-run on TV.

Chinese Have Unique
Way of Collecting Debts - They Move in

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The Chinese have an ingenious way of collecting bad debts. The creditor and his family simply move into the debtor's home. Rather than live with his unwanted guests, the debtor usually pays up.

Having children won't necessarily save a foundering marriage. Psychologists say that, in some cases, children increase rather than diminish the tension between wife and husband.

The postwar Japanese are growing up taller and heavier. Better farming methods have enabled them to raise their average daily intake of calories in the past 10 years from 2,162 to 2,353.

The chances are one in 80 that you will need a blood transfusion sometime in the next 12 months. American hospitals now use between five million and six million pints of blood a year.

Yep, you really require sleep to function at your best. Tests show that the more sleep you miss the more errors you make, and people deprived of sleep too long become hallucinated and terror-stricken.

How they started: Folksinger Theodore Bikel sought to be a lawyer. Buddy Hackett, the comedian, studied to be dramatic actor. James Cagney, famed for his tough gangster portrayals, danced in the chorus of musical comedies.

Quotable notables: "We have been god-like in our planned breeding of our domesticated plants and animals, but we have been rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves."

- historian Arnold Toynbee.

Alcohol is one of man's oldest problems. An Egyptian writer 3,000 years ago wrote this warning against drinking a big jug of beer: "Thou speakest and an unintelligible utterance is sueth from thy mouth. If you break, there is none to hold out a hand to thee. Thy companions in drink stand up and say: 'Away with this sot.' And thou are like a little child."

Cleopatra never used a bar of soap in her life. Slaves anointed her body with oil, then hand-rubbed the dirt off.

Folklore: If you put a louse on a baby's head before he is nine days old and then carry him up to the attic, he will have lofty thoughts later in life. An itching left eye is a sign of woe to come. Handling an open pen-knife to a friend will result in a quarrel. If you iron the tail of your husband's shirt, lady, it will make him harsh.

No one really knows what Jesus Christ looked like, whether he was short or tall, handsome or homely, fair or dark. Historians feel sure he was bearded, however, for all Jewish men wore beards at the time he lived.

It was Charles Spurgeon who observed, "It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness."

Thomas M. Baber, Hope, received his commission as an Air Force reserve second lieutenant from Lieut. Gen. Harry J. Lemley in ceremonies on the University of Arkansas campus. Sixty-six ROTC students were commissioned by General Lemley, who is a native of Hope, and deputy chief of staff for military operations of the U.S. Army.

Hope Negro
Involved in Car Wreck

Texarkana - A three-car accident Saturday on Highway 67 near Texarkana resulted in injury to four persons and the jailing of one.

According to Arkansas State Trooper John Jarvis, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Larry Michaelis, 22 and 18, were enroute to Hot Springs about 8:45 p.m. after a 6 p.m. wedding when their auto was struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Willie Whitmore, Negro, of Hope.

Jarvis said the impact shoved the Michaelis auto into the path of an oncoming car driven by John Schoumloeffel, 46, of Murfreesboro. Schoumloeffel and Mrs. Edith Lingo, 40, also of Murfreesboro, were taken to Wadley Hospital for treatment of facial lacerations. His condition was listed as satisfactory. Mrs. Lingo was said to be in serious condition.

The Michaelis couple was taken to St. Michael Hospital for treatment of lacerations and bruises and are listed in satisfactory condition.

Whitmore was confined to Miller County jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) - U.S. Marines smashed a Communist regiment 25 miles southwest of Da Nang and reported that 570 of the enemy were killed. Leatherneck casualties were 73 dead and 139 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the Marines rolled up their lop-sided victory below the big Marine base at Da Nang against a crack Red regiment after two days of intense fighting. The Communist regiment, estimated at about 3,000 men before the battle, slipped away to the north Saturday under intense air and artillery hammering.

Two U.S. planes were downed over North Vietnam during the weekend, bringing the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over the North to 571.

An F105 Thunderchief was brought down by Communist ground fire Sunday but its pilot was rescued. A twin-engine B57 Canberra bomber went down Saturday night in a raid on the southern end of North Vietnam. Its two-man crew was missing.

Air Force pilots reported they completely enveloped a convoy of 20 trucks near Dong Hol with heavy bombing Sunday. Another Air Force sweep destroyed seven of eleven trucks in a convoy near Vinh.

The total number of Communist MIGs claimed shot down by U.S. fighters rose to 74 Saturday with the downing of two MIG17s by Air Force pilots who were attacking a rail line running from Hanoi to China.

A flight of MIGs tried to intercept the raiding F105 Thunderchiefs. But U.S. pilots shot two of the swept-wing Red fighters out of the skies with missile and cannon fire within 90 seconds.

The U.S. has so far lost 20 planes in aerial combat.

Two groups of Communist defectors surrendered in Quang Ngai Province Saturday.

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) - Richard Speck, 25, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair Sept. 1 for murdering eight young nurses in their Chicago dormitory last year.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Supreme Court today overturned a 5th District Circuit Court ruling holding Mrs. Wanda L. Tudor in contempt, but denied a petition for a writ of prohibition by the First National Bank of Little Rock to make its records available to the court.

The two suits stemmed from a charge in the Arkansas Senate by Sen. Guy Jones that the Republican party had bought Negro votes in Conway County during the 1966 general election campaign. He produced a check to a Negro signed by Mrs. Tudor.

Russia Says
U.S. Defense
Dept. Lied

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOSCOW (AP) - Pravda contended today "irrefutable facts" show that U.S. Defense Department lied when it said "no U.S. aircraft bombed or strafed" a Soviet ship in a North Vietnamese harbor Friday.

The Soviet Union protested to the United States Friday, saying one Russian seaman was killed and six others wounded in an attack at Cam Pha. The United States suggested North Vietnamese antiaircraft shells had hit the cargo ship Turkistan.

Pravda, the Communist party paper, published an interview with Capt. Viktor Sokolov of the Turkistan in which he said "visibility was excellent" and "there could be no question of an attack by mistake."

Sokolov said U.S. pilots "trained their machine guns on the central superstructure of the ship where the crew lived and worked." He said a Soviet flag was flying from the mast and a hammer and sickle was visible on the ship's stack.

Israel, Arab NationsUN Asked to Help Bring a Cease-fire

WASHINGTON (AP) - The White House called upon "all parties" today to support the United Nations Security Council in bringing about an immediate cease-fire in the Middle East war.

Press secretary George Christian said in a statement that "traic consequences will flow from this needless and destructive struggle if the fighting does not cease immediately."

He said this country will devote all its energies to ending the fighting and beginning programs "to assure the peace and development of the entire area."

President Johnson was notified at 4:40 a.m. of the outbreak of hostilities between Israel and Egypt. His special assistant for national security affairs, Walt Rostow, awakened him then and the President kept in continuous touch with developments, the White House said.

Two separate crisis meetings were called. Johnson summoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Rostow and Christian to an 8:30 a.m. conference. This is the same group that meets at least once a week on the international situation.

Johnson asked Rusk and McNamara to brief Senate and House leaders on the Middle East crisis at 9:30 a.m.

Court Upholds
Giving Child
to Mother

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today a Greene County Chancery Court ruling giving custody of five-year-old Sharon Swindle to her mother, Mrs. Valerie Swindle.

The decision climaxes a long court battle over custody of the child.

The girl's father, Gerald Swindle had appealed the chancery court ruling last December to the state Supreme Court.

Valerie Swindle came to Arkansas from Cheltenham, England late in October 1965, less than three months after Gerald whisked the then two-year-old Sharon from England in a cross Atlantic flight from London to St. Louis via New York.

Hackler Says
Trouble Is Over Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - State Game and Fish Commissioner Raymond Farris of Biscoe said Saturday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller wanted the resignations of the commission members because they wouldn't give the Republicans "half of the game and fish jobs."

Hugh Hackler, executive director of the commission, backed up Farris' charge and said a Republican official told him late last year the Republicans "felt they were entitled to 50 per cent of the game and fish employees."

Hackler identified the official as Truman Altenbaumer. Hackler said he told Altenbaumer he wouldn't fire any local employee "to put somebody else on" but that if any vacancies occurred, the Republicans would not be turned down.

Rockefeller asked the commissioners to resign last week and when all seven refused, said he would attempt to have them removed under the provisions of Amendment 35.
